The first breach.

01 / TEL ARAD INCIDENT REPORT · THE LAST TRUMPET SAGA

Project Veil Command / Reader dispatch

Mission File 001 is a fictional, spoiler-light companion to Realms Asunder by A.W. Adams. It introduces the Tel Arad encounter, the people on the line, and a place to talk with fellow readers.

Incident / Tel Arad perimeter, 0247

The alarms sound. Tony Ward and Ramirez reach a defensive line already breaking into uncontrolled fire. Floodlights fail. The temperature drops. A moving distortion gives Tony a target, but his rounds pass through it.

Command response / Protect the line

Tony forces frightened soldiers to identify their targets. Ramirez redistributes ammunition. Garret confirms that a clean shot has not stopped the threat. Their training still protects the men from panic and friendly fire, even as the enemy overturns what they know about a fight.

Turning point / A different shot

Ramirez kneels in the sand with his rifle across his thighs. He prays, then fires. The shot sounds different. The selected Chapter Two preview stops there; the novel carries the fight forward.

Reader briefing / Faith with a cost

The Last Trumpet Saga follows ordinary people drawn into an ancient spiritual war. Faith is lived through choices, sacrifice, and care for others. This report describes the novel’s events, not a real military incident or scientific finding.

Text directive

Stand firm in the faith; be courageous; be strong. - 1 Corinthians 16:13

People before positions.

Dr. Dedra Lock / Research psychiatrist

Dedra follows a frequency connecting patients, places, and events that should have nothing in common. Evidence draws her toward the same conflict the soldiers face. Watch what she notices - and what it costs her to keep looking.

Master Sergeant Tony Ward / The line-holder

Tony knows how to organize a defense and keep frightened soldiers moving. At Tel Arad, those skills remain essential. They simply are not enough. Watch the small decisions he makes for his men before he understands the larger war.

Corporal Ramirez / The believer

Ramirez’s faith lives alongside his military experience. It appears in his choices, his steadiness, and his care for the men around him. Prayer is a decision he acts on, even before the others understand.

Beyond the perimeter / The Veil

Long before Project Veil, an angelic Host chose to become the barrier holding back Hell. Their sacrifice did not end the conflict. It held it. Now the Veil is weakening. The barrier is made of lives, and its endurance carries a cost.

Reading order

Pinned / Operative Intel

Worldview & Lore Deep Dives is an author-created starting point for interpretations of the Veil, spiritual warfare, and the choices people make. Separate real-world evidence from the fictional resonance and supernatural mechanics of the saga. A reader theory is not automatically canon.

Pinned / Tactical Debrief

Talk through Tony and Ramirez’s decisions in the Chapter Two preview. Notice what their training still does for their men when the weapons fail. Compare interpretations or open a new topic.

Pinned / Faith Under Fire

Share the act of courage, doubt, or care that stayed with you. Different readings are welcome. Tell fellow readers which chapter your spoilers come from.
